

Tools at the edge of the image or far away from the camera

Scenario

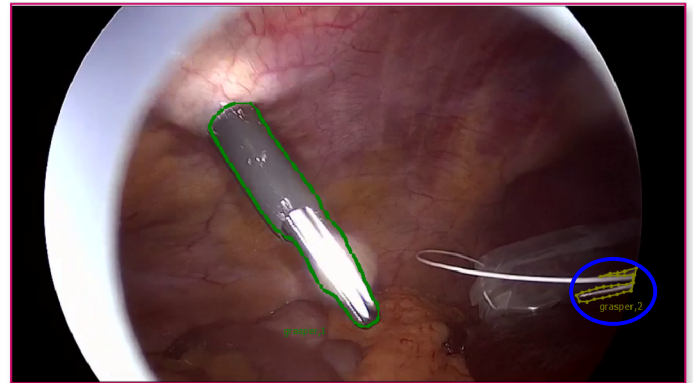

Example

Tool at the edge of the frame:
annotators must ensure these tools are always annotated despite their partial visibility

The blue circle highlights an instrument partially visible at the edge of the image. Annotators should be vigilant for instruments entering or exiting the frame.

Tools distant from the camera:
tools that are situated far from the camera and might be easily overlooked; annotators must ensure these instruments are always annotated

The blue circle highlights an instrument distant from the camera. Annotators should take note of instruments in the background to ensure comprehensive annotation.
